WATER COMPANY IS CONSIDERING COST OF FILTER

Maysville Water Company Has Expert Look Over the Ground To Get An Idea of the Cost of a Filtration Plant.

The endeavors of the special water committee of city council named by Mayor J. H. Samuel upon his assuming the mayor's chair, may meet with more success than most people had expected or hoped, it is learned through recent movements on the part of the officials of the Maysville Water Company.

Following a conference in Maysville several weeks ago between several officials of the water company and the members of the special committee, the company's officials have been very busy getting in touch with the manufacturers of filtration plants of various kinds and a few days ago an expert came to Maysville from Louisville and spent a couple of days looking over the situation.

It is learned upon official information that there is a very great probability that a filtration plant will be installed in Maysville before long. It is learned that the expert recommended the building of the filtration plant on the hill back of Maysville near the present reservoirs. He recommends the continuation of the present reservoirs as sedimentation basins and would build the filtration plant some lower on the hill reducing the pressure in the city quite a bit and yet leaving plenty of pressure for all practical purposes. This would not only be much better for the water consumers by would greatly reduce the cost of operation of the water company for the present high pressure is very expensive to them.

Just how the matter will be finally worked out cannot be said at this time but it should give encouragement to all users of city water to know that there is at least a move being made to give Maysville a first class filtration plant.

Invitations to this meeting are not limited to members of the church but include all in the community who are interested in mission work.

NEVER FORGET.

When you feel hopeless and despair of ever getting back your health, there is one medicine that you should try before giving up altogether—Bulgarian Blood Tea assists nature to flush the poison-soaked kidney, stir the lazy liver, gently move the bowels and purify the system. And when you take it steaming hot at bedtime it breaks up a bad cold and guards against influenza, pneumonia or other sickness. Why not ask your druggist or grocer for a trial box today.

REPORT GIVES WAGES OF WOMEN IN STATE

U. S. Bureau Shows They Earn Less Than In Other States.

Kentucky women earn less on an average than those of any other state investigated by the Women's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor according to statistics received yesterday. In one week in November, the average was $11.05 with 63 per cent of the women working forty-eight hours or more. The range is from $6 to $15 a week for those working forty-eight or more hours a week.

The telephone workers showed the highest average, $14.30. Girls in ten-cent stores averaged according to the report, $8.75, and in wooden box factories, $7.50. Negro women averaged $8.30 in all occupations.

As a tribute to the consideration of Kentucky men and women, the report pointed out that although the state has no ten-hour a day, or sixty-hour a week law, the actual practice brings the average length of working hours shorter than it is in most other states.

The following is a copy of a letter recently mailed by Dr. A. T. McCormack, State Health Officer, to Prof. Clarence Martin, principal of the Moransburg Consolidated School:

"It has just been brought to my attention that the children off Moransburg Consolidated School, have, with full accord, co-operated with our health department in Mason county to the extent that 100% have been vaccinated, and I am so delighted to learn that I want to especially commend you and your teachers, Miss Kelch and Mrs. Wiggins, for the splendid part you have all played in putting this campaign over.

"We have been particularly impressed with the splendid work of your county health department, and through Dr. Guittard, the health officer, have learned of the wonderful co-operation of the teachers of Mason county, and seeing the result such as this splendid example illustrates, I feel that the health work in Mason county, through the schools, has been of the character that furnished a worth-while administration. I shall hope that there will be reflected from your school throughout the community the influence for the good of the health of the people that will stand for a long time to come, and that you and your teachers will continue to be appreciated for all that you are giving to them."

UNDERMINING THE LAW.

When Peoria, at one time the great fountain of alcoholic stimulant in the United States, refused through its city council to denounce the Volstead law and demand the loosing of the flood of light wines and beer, the world of those who used to do away with prohibition stood aghast. So many city councils, that of Boston among the others, had dutifully done the bidding of those who would like to restore the liquor power in politics, that it seemed incomprehensible that the early fathers of what used to be the greatest distilling center in the world should have failed to join in the chorus. Possibly the fact that the bank clearings of Peoria have steadily increased ever since the boozemills were put out of operation, and the prosperity of the retail dealers of the town has been notably enhanced, led the aldermen to take their wise and prudent course.

There is, however, a more basic and fundamental reason why members of the boards of aldermen and state legislatures should refrain from putting themselves in flat antagonism to the law as it is now ordained.

Some of the members of those bodies are naturalized citizens who took an oath of loyalty to the constitution when they took out their final papers. Moreover, such an oath is in nearly every instance a condition precedent to taking seat in any law-making body. The form of the attacks that have been made on the Volstead act has been in all essential respects an attack upon the constitutional amendment of which it is the enforcement clause.

Americans can go back to a political guide when they all hold in respect—a respect shared by the people of the whole world—when they come to consider any systematic and organized obstruction to the enforcement of the laws, or the maintenance of the constitution. In Washington's farewell address, a classic of the American political creed, will be found the following paragraphs:

All obstructions to the execution of the laws, all combinations and associations, under whatever plausible character, with the real design to direct and control, counteract, or awe the regular deliberation and action of the constituted authorities, are destructive of the fundamental principle, and of fatal tendency. They serve to organize faction, to give it an artificial and extraordinary force, to put in the place of the delegated will of the nation the will of a party, often a small but artful and enterprising minority of the community; and, according to the alternate triumphs of different parties, to make the public administration the mirror of the ill-conceived and incongruous projects of faction, rather than the organ of consistent and wholesome counsels, and modified by mutual interests.

However combinations or associations of the above descriptions may now and then answer popular ends, they are likely, in the course of time and things, to become potent engines, by which cunning, ambitious and unprincipled men will be enabled to subvert the power of the people, and to usurp, for themselves the reins of government, destroying afterwards the very engines which lifted them to unjust dominion.

Towards the preservation of your government and the permanency of your present happy state, it is requisite, not only that you steadily disconvene irregular oppositions to its acknowledged authority, but also that you resist with care the spirit of innovation upon its principles, however specious the pretexts.

Until the people of the United States, acting deliberately and in accordance with the established terms of the law, repeal as they adopted it, it is the duty of all god citizens to literally observe its commands. For a public official to set himself in opposition to it brings him narrowly within the scope of impeachment. — Christian Science Monitor.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, — "For the men who served this nation in its time of need, the American people entertain feelings of deepest appreciation and gratitude" says the Republican Publicity Association, through its President Ho. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "The Republican party, as the present authorized spokesman of the American people, has endeavored to give expression to that nation-wide spirit. It is true that for two years or more after the armistice, there was a manifest failure to adequately care for those who were injured or were disabled through disease, but this was not due to lack of sympathy or recognition of the obligation that rests upon the nation. The administration then in power was dilinquent in preparation for peace as it had been in preparation for war and the returning soldiers found no proper provisions for their care. Immediately upon taking charge of the administration of the Government in 1921, the Republicans began reorganization of soldier relief and rehabilitation agencies and made larger provision for hospitals and vocational training. The need of all this should have been readily apparent long before the war was brought to a close and adequate hospital space should have been ready in advance of return of the crippled and disabled.

"With few exceptions, the returned soldiers fully understand the actual situation and know that delay in caring for the injured was not an evidence of lack of appreciation on the part of the people. They know the record of the Democratic administration for mismanagement from beginning to end, and they do not hold the nation in general responsible.

"In its endeavors to manifest its gratitude toward the veterans, the Republican Administration does not believe in the policy expressed by the well-known advertising slogan, 'Say it with flowers.' So far as money can voice their acknowledgements, the Many Maysville People Have Kidney Trouble And Do Not Know It.

Do you have backache? Are you tired and worn out? Feel dizzy, nervous and depressed? Are the kidney secretions irregular? Highly colored? contain sediment? Likely your kidneys are at fault. Weak kidneys give warning of disease.

Had the warning; don't delay—Use a tested kidney remedy. Read this Maysville testimony.

Bryan Greenlee, proprietor grocery store, 238 West Third street, says: "About two years ago I had an attack of kidney trouble and I suffered a lot from backache. There was a deep seated pain across the center of my back. I was repairing machinery at that time and when doing any kind of stooping work I could hardly straighten up. My kidneys were not acting regularly and in other ways showed signs of disorder. I went to Wood & Son's Drug Store and got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills — the same that Mr. Greenlee had. tion. Thorough spraying with lime-sulphur from both sides of the tree at this time of the year is recommended by the specialists as an effective means of controlling the pest that annually causes serious injuries to apple, plum, peach and pear trees.

In preparing homemade lime-sulphur, 20 pounds of lime are slackened in a large kettle to which 14 pounds of sulphur are added slowly and thoroughly stirred in with the mixture. Twenty gallons of water are added to this and the entire mixture boiled for an hour after which it is strained through burlap to remove coarse particles. Enough hot water is added to make 40 gallons and the spray is ready for application.

Concentrated lime sulphur purchased on the market is diluted about one part to ten of water for peach, plum and cherry trees and one and one-half parts to ten of water for apple and pear trees.

The letters in the alphabets of the world vary from twelve to two hundred and two in number. The Hawaiian alphabet has the smallest number, the Tartarian the largest.

"After that," said the man,
"It's not the mule's fault"

Blame for injury depends on how much chance the victim had to make himself safe.

"The first time a mule kicks me," said a wise man, "it's the mule's fault. If it happens again, it's my fault."

A good many people are staying within kicking distance of tea or coffee, who have had a chance to know better.

They have learned that tea or coffee at night keeps them awake. They know it whips up the nerves. They know what medical opinion has so often said about the effect of the drug element in tea and coffee upon the nervous system—and how indigestion, headaches, high blood pressure and various ills so often follow the use of tea or coffee.

Knowing this, they fail to keep out of the way. Where does the blame belong, then, when the final break-down comes?

There's safety in Postum, and charm, too. Postum has a full, rich flavor much like that of the better grades of coffee, and it is free from any harmful element whatsoever.

Whether or not you've had your warning from tea or coffee, why not step over on the safe side? Why not do what so many others have done—try Postum for ten days, learn how delightful and satisfying it is—and learn how much improvement there can be for you?

You can get Postum wherever good food and drink are sold or served, and it only takes a word from you to your grocer or restaurant waiter, to make this move to the safe side, at once.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

New York Letter by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York — After the failure of Maurice Maeterlinck on the American lecture platform a year or so ago, it is rather interesting to note that his divorced wife, Georgette LeBlanc, has made herself exceptionally popular in a quiet and exclusive way here in New York with the series of concerts and readings that she has been giving in the home of wealthy Manhattanites. She has experienced a good many difficulties since she came to this country, financial among others, but now she seems on the way to comfort. There is some talk of her going upon the vaudeville stage in a condensed version of Maeterlinck's most popular play, "The Bluebird," thereby indicating, one would assume, that there is no hard feeling between the ex-husband and wife.

—NY—

Gainsborough's famous "Blue Boy" considered by many critics to be the greatest portrait ever painted, arrived here on the Savoie the other day. The painting which will be exhibited very soon by its new owner Henry E. Huntington, has been cleaned of innumerable coats of varnish which had clouded the rich blue which made it a sensation when it first came from the hand of the artist. Exhibited in the National Galleries of England before leaving that country, it was admired by unprecedented crowds which viewed it almost with reverence. The price paid for it is reported to have been $730,000.

—NY—

New York refuses to be limited by ANYTHING — even the shores of its islands. Now that Manhattan is holding about as many people and buildings and transportation lines as it can crowd onto its surface, the perfectly practicable suggestion has been made — and seems likely to go through — to build the island bigger. Wall street will be geographically the heart of city as well as its figurative pulse when the tremendous undertaking shall have been accomplished. The plan is to add six square miles of land to the lower end of Manhattan Island, extending right out into the harbor, including Governor's Island in its acreage and bring Staten Island as close as Brooklyn now it. Although stupendous in its conception, it has been pronounced a perfectly feasible idea. Walter Russell is president of the organization formed for the purpose of effecting this unprecedented "city extension;" T. Kennard Thompson, engineer; and Ernest D. Anderson,

A new circular dealing with the baby beef project for junior agricultural club members has just come off the press at the College of Agriculture and is being distributed to interested boys and girls in the state. The project for which the circular was written is designed to teach boys and girls the value of producing quick-maturing animals of good type. MRS. HATFIELD SABINA, OHIO

In Pitiable Condition when she Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sabina, Ohio.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and irregularity. I was weak and nervous and could hardly stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal. I was this way for about a year and had tried several medicines and had a physician, but to no avail. My sister was taking your medicine and finally induced me to try it. I now feel fine and can do my housework without any trouble. You can use this letter for the sake of others if you wish."—Mrs. WILSON G. HATFIELD, R. R. 3, Sabina, Ohio.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become weak and nervous that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken when you first notice such symptoms as nervousness, backache, weakness and irregularity. It will help you and prevent more serious trouble. Give it a fair trial. It surely helped Mrs. Hatfield, just as it has many, many other women.

FEDERAL WARRANTS ARE ISSUED FOR NEWPORT OFFICIALS

Warrants Issued By District Federal Attorney Charge Newport
Officials of Conspiracy.

Warrants for the arrest of Joseph Hermann, Newport mayor; Frank Bregel, police chief; Conrad Matz,
Campbell county attorney; Edward Hamilton, commonwealth detective;
and John Sheean, Campbell county detective, were issued Thursday by Sawyer A. Smith, U. S. District attorney at Covington.

The language of the warrants is broad, and charges the official with
"conspiring to commit an offense against the United States that is to violate the national prohibition act, to manufacture, sell, transport and possess intoxicating liquor, including whisky and beer, and to conspire with numerous others for same; said defendants and said other persons did manufacture, sell and transport intoxicating liquor, including whisky and beer, and did aid, assist and abet in doing same."

Explaining the warrants Smith, the district attorney, said the accused officials are not alleged to have made liquor, but they are guilty of conspiracy, he holds, if they knew liquor was being made, sold or transported illegally, and "are as guilty of the manufacture as the man who actually made it."

House of Representatives has passed the $50,000,000 road bond issue.

party one and appealed to Democrats to vote against the bill for political advantage.
